

Jansz Tasmania

Three words describe the thinking behind Jansz Tasmania. Time. Patience. Discipline. Time, patience and discipline spent nurturing the vines and awaiting the perfect moment to pick the fruit each year. Time, patience and discipline in the winery dedicating care and attention to creating Jansz sparkling wines.

The Pipers River area of north-eastern Tasmania is a region known simply as 'Sparkling Tasmania'. Its proximity to Bass Strait and the Tamar River moderates the natural cool climate, making it ideal for slow ripening of fruit with intense flavours and a lingering acidity – essential elements for making premium sparkling wine. This is without doubt, the foremost premium sparkling wine region of the Southern Hemisphere.
